DIED.

VAUGHAN-February 3, W. A. M. Vaugh-an, aged 68 years. Funeral services at the residence, 930 Locust street, at 11 a. m., Saturday, February 5. Burial private.

In the catacombs of Christ church cathedral. Dublin, says a correspondent of the rail. Dublin, says a correspondent of the Westminster Gazette, are shown the skeletons of a cat and a mouse, discovered when the alterations were made in the organ on the restoration of the cathedral. The nouse, pursued by the cat, had, rot into one of the pipes of the organ, the cat in the attempt to follow was jammed inextricably between the tubes. So, too, I have heard a popular preacher teil a large audience this anecdote, for the accuracy of which he vouched. A sportsman watchen an eigle as it soared into the air. He then observed it to pause in its flight, appear to be convulsed, clap its winax, and fall to the ground. He immediately went to the place where the eagle lay, and perceived that it held in its beak a lizard, which had colled around its neck, producing strangulation. Both eagle and lizard were dead.

In the dining car at 6:10 p. m., each day, on the Burlington Route new Chicago train. Service is a la carte.

FOR SALE-REAL ESTATE.

DO NOT BUY SOUTHERN LANDS

WITHOUT INVESTIGATION. There are ordinary and extraordinary lands. Good, ordinary lands are those without perpen-dicular surface and rock-ribbed soil, but which are rich and fertile, producing well ordinary products, and yet in which there is money. But extraordinary lands are such as those in Southwest Louisiana, deeply rich and fertile, too high to flood and too level to wish; abundantly watered and wooded, and which, while unexcelled in the production of all the finest Southern fruits and crops, will, besides, by reason of peculiar conditions, produce an unfailing yearly harvest of pearly rice, the most valuable grain that grows, and the only crop thich are rich and fertile, producing wel uable grain that grows, and the only crop of which there is not, nor can there ever be, a surplus. Other grains grow most everywhere—rich will not. Thousands of Northern farmers have in the past few years gained unknown comfort and wealth there. Lands yield yearly 3 to 6 times their cost, and are increasing in value, 800,000 acres, cheap and on time. Write for full information
